Exact match supported for author search results

You can perform an exact author search by enclosing the name (first and/or last) of the author in quotation marks.

Boolean operators

The Boolean operators AND, OR, and NOT can be applied to search terms.

AND (also + or &)

Use AND to search for documents containing two or more terms. For example, the following query returns documents containing both cat and dog:

cat AND dog

The AND operator is applied by default; for example cat AND dog produces the same results as cat dog.

OR

Use OR to search for documents containing at least one of two or more terms. For example, the following query returns documents containing cat, documents containing dog, and documents containing cat and dog:

cat OR dog

NOT

ABSTRACT

Ethical Frameworks and Concepts of Sponsorship

Who Were the Sponsors?

Who Were the Sponsors?

ABSTRACT

Drawing from the experience of managing an oral history project as part of a digital archive built following the 2013 Boston Marathon bombings, this article seeks to unpack questions of ethics in terms of how we actually create our oral history projects, which includes the relations of power that extend beyond the interview and take into consideration the various organizations involved in such projects. More specifically, it uses the concept of "organizational sponsorship" to examine how stakeholders benefit from such research practices and asks oral historians to consider these relations in their own contexts and what those relations of power may be.
